

ABOUT THE JOURNAL

VOICES AND VISIONS: Journal of Humanities and Social Sciences is an interdisciplinary, peer-reviewed academic journal published by the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences, Suan Sunandha Rajabhat University, Bangkok, Thailand. The journal aims to advance and disseminate scholarly knowledge in the humanities and social sciences, fostering critical dialogue at both national and international levels.

The journal welcomes original submissions in the form of research articles, academic articles, review articles, and book reviews. Its scope covers a broad range of fields, including anthropology, communication studies, education and language teaching, geography and GIS, languages and culture, linguistics and applied linguistics, literature, philosophy, social and local development, tourism and service industries, and other related areas within the humanities and social sciences. All manuscripts must be written in English.

Research articles should not exceed 10,000 words (including references, tables, and appendices). Academic articles and review articles should not exceed 7,000 words, while book reviews should not exceed 2,000 words (including references). All submissions, except book reviews, undergo a double-blind peer review process conducted by at least two to three experts in the relevant field.

The journal is published biannually, with Issue 1 covering January–June and Issue 2 covering July–December. An Article Processing Charge (APC) of 4,500 THB is applied after a manuscript has passed initial editorial screening. No publication fee is charged for book reviews.
